As I sit down to write this message, the campus is carpeted with a fresh fall of snow and the scene, as always, is most impressive. The trees bearing the weight of the snow are somewhat like our students, early in March, bearing the weight of many assignments! This has been a productive school year, already marked with many successes. The achievement of our Junior Football team was particularly noteworthy. Along with many team successes came the individual successes in a whole host of activities. We can be particularly proud of our debaters heading off to international competition in Oxford, UK, as representatives of Canada.

The exciting news for the school is the plans for further development of the campus with a new residence and an expansion of the gym. Subject to planning permission, one of these should be a reality by the end of the year and the other, subject to some success with fund raising, should be ready for action a year later.

As the remainder of the year unfolds, hopefully as it should, I take this opportunity to thank our graduates for the tremendous leadership they have shown this year. The election of a new Student Council was made possible by the hard work of the current prefect body in developing a constitution and organizing elections. Their leadership and hard work has been admirable. Congratulations to Julian de Hoog, the newly elected President. All around, this has been an excellent year, and to all I wish success for graduation and bon voyage for the future.

Eleven hundred and fifty characters. That's the space assigned to my introduction to the Ashburian for 1998/99. And that includes blank spaces. There are 450 or so characters in the senior school this year. And not a blank spot among them. So I'll devote my 1150 characters to the 450 or so that the yearbook bravely tries to portray and hope for the best.

Character is a strange word. A quick check of a good dictionary reveals 28 distinct meanings of the term. "Character" can refer to a person, his or her traits and peculiarities, a particular feature about an individual, or perhaps qualities of honesty, morality, courage, kindness and such. Character can also be a collective term, used to describe the collection of attributes or traits that make up a person or, perhaps, an institution. Ashbury has a character of its own. In some ways it is remarkably stable. In other ways it is delightfully changeable depending on the year, which term we may be in and, sometimes, the kind of day we are having! But there is no doubt that the 450 or so characters in the Senior School define the character of this school as a whole. The students make Ashbury College what it is, year by year. And it is a good school.

I hope you characters enjoy your yearbook.

Winter term saw the dawn of a new era in Ashbury's history with the creation of the Student Council (SC). The SC Organizing Committee presented the school with this novel institution in the second week of the second term. After a week of introduction to the SC several students ran for candidacy to the Council. Following a colourful week of campaigning, from posters to speeches, the ten Grade Representatives and President were voted in. A large turnout with close results rendered the election an exciting process. The establishment of a SC is a significant event in Ashbury's history. Students are now able to voice their opinions and desires through a school-recognized student-run organization. It is important for the Student Council to succeed not only now, but in the years to come.

Jr. Girls' Basketball

Junior girls' basketball had yet another spectacular season. We were a good team in a tough league which unfortunately led to our just missing the play-offs. The season was filled with good times (except for when Danni ruined the score); half time shows . . . poultry dancing . . . St. Pat's . . . shake it off Lace! . . . Sr. Girls' Basketball

Made up of seven seniors and five juniors, the senior girls' basketball team showed off their talents on the court this season all the way to the National Capital Finals. With an undefeated record under our belts and the Trinity tournament champions title, we looked promising as we made our way to London, Ontario to compete in the 1998 "AA" OFSAA tournament. We had tons of fun there (hockey team!?!), and now, as we reflect back on the good times, we are all very proud of how far we went. A special thank you goes to the two people who made it all possible, Coach Holman and Coach Sparks, we love you guys tons! We also congratulate our three OAC students, who contributed greatly to the success of this team. Last but not least, we thank all of our fans for their amazing support (juniors!). They kept our confidence up until the end.

The Ashbury Junior Colts won their first Tier 1 Football Championships on Saturday, November 14. They defeated St. Peter's High School by a score of 10 to 3 in front of several hundred Ashbury supporters at Carleton University.

The Colts, who had lost to Gloucester in the city finals last year, finished the regular season with a 4-1-1 record. In the semi-finals, Ashbury rebounded from an early 10-point deficit to down St. Matthew's 22-10. This put us in the finals against St. Peter's whom we had tied at seven during the season. The championship game was no different from the regular season game - a defensive struggle. The Colts built up a 10-0 halftime lead on a touchdown by Devin MacLeod and a field goal by Ryan Semple. The Knights finally kicked a field goal late in the fourth quarter to narrow the gap. Our defense, who had contained St. Peter's offence throughout the game, held off a late charge by stopping the Knights on our own five-yard line with only seconds left in the game. The NCSSAA championship was finally ours.

Many thanks to the players, coaches and our fans for a most exciting and memorable season.

Ouch!!

We were short on players this year but we still managed to produce a winning team. In our first game, with 26 players, we played an experienced well coached team from St. Matts. With a punishing running attack and a team that wouldn't quit, we won that game but unfortunately we lost our running back Mark Mouakiel for the rest of the season. The position was quickly filled by "Presolin" and except for a mid-season slump, our regular season went 3-2. In the playoffs we easily defeated Lester B. Pearson 44-0 and in the semi-finals Ashbury's backfield had the St. Pius defense thinking run every time. We won the game 36-6. Game highlights include Dietz playing every position but quarterback, Tom catching his first pass Dan making his career ending hit. We reached the finals but lost in the dying minutes of the game. We wish to thank our coaches - Coach Robb, Coach Starr, Coach Guarisco and Coach Gray who were the reason for our making the finals. To next year's team best of luck. To the graduating players, don't ever forget about football - it's a part of you. (Dan Skahan)

Despite the rain and snow of the fall (not to mention numerous injuries), the Ashbury Cross-Country Running Team had an extraordinary season. With one of our largest and most dedicated teams to date, the team trained hard and showed amazing results at the OBE Race. All of the members placed within the top 22! Tarah, David, and Zana made it to OFSAA which was held in London, Ontario. We ended the year with a well-deserved runners' meal at East Side Mario's. We would like to thank Dr. Brodsky for her terrific coaching and support. This year paved yet another great path for continued successes next year. Congratulations to everyone on the team.

Jr. Boys' Soccer

At the start of the season, having arrived in Canada barely one month earlier, I was delighted to discover that soccer enjoyed a successful track record at Ashbury and great popularity among both boys and girls, and also that it posed a genuine threat to the sovereignty of 'football'! During the first week of trials, in excess of 30 enthusiastic and capable players turned out for practice, and a formidable 20 were to last the season. The squad was lead by the exemplary St. Clair 'feather-touch' Penny-feather, who captained the team through thick and thin, supported by the Mighty Rasheed Musa, chief goal scorer, who took care of morale and discipline (by singing and shouting respectively).

The team benefitted from talented center-forwards, Alex Boulos and Philip Brunst, and the appearance later in the season of the legendary Ian Rutherford supplying several crucial goals. The mid-field continued to develop in strength with key contributions from Hussein 'hit-man' El-Aggan, Roman 'boots of gold' Kowalski, and Jose Herrerias, and with special guest appearances from Travis Maclean during the latter games. Anthony De Jesus lived up to his family name by taking charge of the defense, also consisting of Matt Runnalls, Matt Miller, Alistair Senn, Peter Rozanski, and (not least) Victor Drury, the player who made greatest progress.

The versatility of Andrew Robertson, Uros Maksimovic, Camillo DeGuzman and Nii 'Edward' Addo, which enabled them to play well both defensively and up front, provided the team with certain tactical advantages, and scope to experiment with formations. Greatest debt, however, is owed to Joe Gallo, our goalie, who was described by visiting coaches as 'technically the most proficient goalkeeper in the division'.

The season contained a mixture of convincing victories (4) and spirited defeats (5), leaving us in the middle of the table, and culminated in a disappointing quarter-final defeat away against Immaculatta, despite a bold and impressive performance by the team. I am grateful to all 20 players for their effort, spirit and determination throughout the campaign, their support, and the promise of an exciting and successful future for Ashbury soccer.

Derek Taylor (Coach).

Sr. Boys' Soccer

The 1998 senior soccer season was definitely a memorable one. The team was comprised mainly of rookies (including the coaches), and only handful of veterans. The senior soccer team was always known for its winning tradition which left our new coaches with big shoes to fill. They surpassed all possible expectations, leading us to a second place finish in the city and a third place finish in the National Private Schools Tournament. I'd just like to thank the rookies for a great year and making the hotel beats so fun - Omar, wet towels hurt, eh? One final thank you to the coaches for their endless support, dedication and encouragement.

Good luck next year and never forget the "riding lessons".

Jr Boys' Basketball

"Maybe we were not the best team but at least we . . ."
Another year for the Junior Basketball Team. A year filled with laughter, tears and close calls. It was a tough year and to show you just how tough it was here is a little poem.

Seven a clock practices
The Mr. Moore drill
Almost beating SRB
Oh what a thrill

A 0-3 start
Right before the season
Should we continue to play
God, please give us a reason

But we kept on playing
And fixing our mistakes
We even made the playoffs
So you could say "We raised the stakes"

Barbarie and the bench
He tried to throw one down
But he went too far
Now he is out of money and walking with a frown

Stu R. Actually scored 21 to be exact
Sami had seven blocks in a game
Stuart Gray, well, he'll be back

It was a fun year and
Thanks to all who watched us play
Thanks to Mr. Moore
Good luck next year, to Mr. Gray

Jr. Girls' Volleyball

Junior Girls' Volleyball (ha, ha) had an excellent season. We finished the season with a 7-2 record (we beat Glebe! Yes!). We had so much fun at practices: Ali SLOW, Wheaties, cartwheels, pushups and DOWN BALLS!!! That ball was IN could have been OUT! Tons of tournaments with Lauryn Hill right before semi. Oh YA! It was an amazing season. With all great teams must come great coaches. Thanks to Mrs. Holman for helping us and making us laugh and teaching us Tae-Bo! And to Miss Gomme for being hilarious and a great coach. Gettin' Jiggy With It Miss Gomme! And thanks to our #1 fan Laura, you are the greatest. Good luck to next year's team and thanks to everyone. Sr. Girls' Volleyball

Through the season in whole
we reached our 7 to 2 goal
With spandex to show our buns of steel
We gained great fan appeal.
From an armband to a butterfly
Our tattoos helped us fly high.
Finishing second at Mac
We showed off our great skills and a six pack .

"Not even close my friend"
began a battle to the end.
To OFSAA we went
In North Bay our time was spent
Through pots and pans
We took a win conquering the fans.
And when all else fails, we still "look great".
A special thanks to Coach Miedema, Coach
Parsons, Judy Mousseau, Amanda Veillette our trusty statistician, and our loyal superfans. Good luck next year to all returning superstars!

Hockey Team

This year marked the Ashbury Hockey Team's return to the Carleton Board's Contact League. With only four returning players and two OAC's, our team was looked upon as being in a building phase. Surprisingly, we started off the season remarkably well going undefeated in four (2-0-2) against excellent teams. Sadly, the streak didn't last very long. Following the Carleton Board's exam break, we developed the tendency to sink down to the other team's levels of play and lost the necessary killer instinct. Some of the season's highlights include our trip to Upper Canada College, Kelen's one hit against Holy Trinity, the incredible fan support, Heffernan's "attempt", and our fabulous new jerseys. Many thanks to Mr. Keyes and Mr. Schneider for all of their time, effort, dedication, and patience. This year's graduating players are Andrew Kelen and Menno Versteeg. Best of luck to next year's team.

Alpine Ski Team

Big hair, baggy pants, stupid songs and Kool FM. These are the elements that formed the backbone of Ashbury's ski team this year. Well, not really. Hard work, determination and dedication paid off in the end. Despite having the smallest team in the area we still managed to place very well. A few placed in the top ten, others finished respectably. Disqualifications were somewhat of a problem, but did not stop us from doing our stuff. I'd like to thank everyone who showed up this year. I'd also like to thank Dr. Brodsky and Marty for their help and support. Congratulations to Peter for finishing with the biggest hair ever in Ashbury racing history.

(Julian Sinclair, Captain)

This year's ski team had impressive results at the races held this year on Slalom at Camp Fortune and on Zoomer at Edelweiss. Tarah Hunter led team with 2nd place finishes in the Level 2 Slalom and GS. In the Level 1 GS, Julian Sinclair placed 9th, Jonathan Estabrooks placed 12th and Marius Faleide, 28th. Stephanie King placed 20th in the Slalom and 23rd in the GS. Tyler Wilgress placed 12th in the Level 2 GS. Level 3 skiers Peter McEwen placed 5th in the Slalom and 8th in the GS, while Geoffrey Heintzman placed 8th in the Slalom. At the Novice event on Marshall at Camp Fortune, Noah Shack placed 4th and Pierre Tipple placed 23rd. A hearty congratulations to all the competitors for their fine efforts.

Boy's Rugby

The Junior Boy's rugby team had a successful season this year finishing the regular season with a 4-1-1 record and impressive wins over school rivals, Brookfield and Hillcrest. After a post-season win over Hillcrest in the semi-final, we played a hard-fought match against the undefeated team from Immaculata, but lost that Ottawa Board Final 19-10. An impressive season, considering the team was without a head coach for the first part of the season. Special thanks to team MVPs James Kenny and Devin Mcleod and to coaches Darcy Walsh and Andreas Beltran for their hard work and achievements. Men's Rugby

The Ashbury Men's Rugby team had an outstanding season this year, proving itself to be among the top rugby schools not only in Ottawa, but in all of Canada. Though we had a "rocky" start with the late snow melt and a slightly bumpy field, the enthusiasm of the 36 players and of our coaches, Mr. Featherstone and Jim Norton, turned a group of talented athletes into an outstanding rugby team. We started our season at Trinity College School with a National Independent School rugby tournament. Through the four games in three days, we played many of the top teams in the country which ended with a glorious test against the defending triple A O.F.S.A. champions, Upper Canada College, which we lost by a slim margin. Through our regular season, which ended with a 4-2 record, highlighted by three shutouts and 107 unanswered points. That put us in second place in the Ottawa-Carleton league, behind Brookfield. Though our season came to an unfortunate end with a loss to Brookfield in the City Championships, all of the players were proud to have been part of such an exceptional and fun-loving team.

Jr. Girls' Soccer

The junior girls soccer team had a successful year and we all improved a lot. We had a young team, yet still managed to get to the quarter finals. Thanks to the coaches for all their hard work. We had a lot of fun times out there on the "pitch".

All those water fights, Pickin' up the rocks, "Girls . . . remember to thank the bus driver on the way out." (English accent included) So, ah, who plays right defence anyway? - "Peach," - "Hey Kin!" - "Hey Lo!" - "Go Pi Bi!" - "Ya, we're on our way down to the rockeries, but, ah . . . no, you can't get a ride!" (sarcasm included). - "How's your butt, Mr. Taylor?," - Mr. Taylor's "sunnies." - "Hey Mr. Mc!," - "Laura's header!" - "#3," - Big shirts - except for Laura's! . . . So when's the team dinner? . . .

Sr. Girls' Soccer

City champions after ten years - good work girls! Thanks to our skilled goalie Paula, and our excellent defence: Schnitzel, is it sugar ray? No, its Jamie J., Julie from Vanier, Cas, and Larissa, only one goal was let in. Despite some 'Froodlian' slips, Sarah, Zein, Kate, and Georgia Peach did a marvellous job on the mid-field. Maryam didn't let herself get pushed around too much; Pocahontas was as fast as the wind with Bridget up front. Kalessy's "Oh my God" and Whit's cackle will be remembered from practices. Thanks Coach Keyes and Coach Hardie, we finally got the hardware. Good luck next year! (Nadia Lemp)

Girls' Rugby

Our long crusade began at Trinity in the cold days of April. A team with few expectations set its sights for the championship and fought their way to the city finals. (Next year, check the rules on penalty kicks.) Angus, Hey Christmas!, pre-game dances, savage, shake the turkey, praise, rainy practice. To our coaches we owe you what we know. Track and Field

The Track and Field Team was large and energetic and we enjoyed a great season. We even managed some great results in all the events. As a part of these amazing accomplishments, many members of the team went to the OFSAA regional meet. These members included D. Roulston, S. King, P. Shinkman, the 4x100m Midget Girls. Thanks for the fun! A special thanks to our coaches.

Baseball

Coming out of spring training the Ashbury Baseball team knew they were going far.

We began our season with an easy exhibition victory over LCC in Montreal. After coming back in our season opener to tie Laurentian, we went onto win our next 3 games over Brookfield, Canterbury and Immaculada led by solid pitching from Cris Marcotte, William Wells, and the timely hitting of Cameron McWade & Co. Playing Carine Wilson we erupted for 10 runs in the 7th inning for our fourth win of the year. Joe Gallo and Kartik Subramani's RBI singles, Aaron Barth's RBI double, Rob Prior's home run, Sam Cheng's defensive wizardry, and Greg Seppalla's killer curve were all we needed to beat Franco Cite and close off the regular season undefeated.

Already well into exams, we faced Woodroffe for our quarter-final game. Defensive errors by both teams kept the game close, but we went on to notch the win 8-5. With a strong wind blowing to right field, Mike Prior took the mound in our semi-final game against Franco Cite. With the help of Eric Johnson's double, Dan Mirsky's single, as well as his own solo shot, Mike picked up the win.

We were going to the Championship game with the aim to beat the only team we hadn't in the regular season - Laurentian.

On an extremely hot day at Jetform we were winning 2-1 before Laurentian came back to take a 5-2 lead. A two out 2-run single brought us right back into the ball game. Unfortunately, however, in the last 2 innings our pitching got bombed, we made costly errors and they scored 5 runs. The deep fly caught by the Laurentian right fielder ended our season in a way we didn't want it to.

Thanks and congratulations go out to Coach Moore and Coles for their work and commitment as well as to all the players for such a great season. Aaron Barth (Captain)

Junior Boys Volleyball

The Junior Boys Volleyball team this year was very positive-minded, talented, and aggressive. With a number of boys completely new to this sport, this team won four matches and lost six in the city's tier II league. The team was ably captained by Ben Mann, whose good communication skills and desire to win helped the six players on the court gel as a unit. Highlights from the season include: a few spike serve aces by a couple of our players; Stuart Gray's one-man "stuff" block; Alex Young's middle attacks; good setting by Alex Boulos and Ben Mann; fine passing by Chris Doyle-Kelly, Rahim Dhalla and Philip Brunst; Camilo de Guzman's rocket spikes; and some amazing digs by Doug Young and Anthony Rocheleau. Thanks to Mr. Miedema and Mr. Mousseau for coaching us.

Ashbury Investors Club

The past year has proven very enlightening for the Ashbury College Investors Club. The stock market rolling and corrections have provided an interesting backdrop for our activities. We had the opportunity to work with Rob Orange, a broker at Merrill Lynch, who was most helpful through his generosity and insight. He suggested Crosskeys, an Ottawa based high technology firm, Domtar for pulp and paper and an Aim Mutual Growth Fund: the end result was a well-rounded portfolio. The year progressed and our investments fluctuated following the trend in the respective industries. In March we opted to sell Domtar and buy Uniglobe Travel, an Internet based travel agency.

Throughout the year we enjoyed the presence of guest speakers who were able to share their wealth of information, from the working of the stock market to investment possibilities. On behalf of the Investors Club, we would like to thank the executive, Mrs. Hergert and Rob Orange for their time, effort and commitment. We would also like to thank the Executive for their dedication: Andrew Nicolson, Dave French, Eric Pook, Matthew Mendell, Winston Bennett, and Bridget Adrian. (Andrew Nicolson and Dave French)

Ashbury Science Club

The Ashbury Science Club was busy this year. We commenced in September with preparations for the National Science and Technology Week in October. The club members planned and organized a Science Olympics competition for the Junior School students. The events included an Internet scavenger hunt, a newspaper tower, and a balloon buggy race.

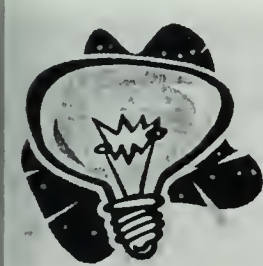

After Christmas, several students attended the 1999 Ottawa Science and Engineering Olympics at the Museum of Science and Technology. This involved many hours in the laboratory, constructing and testing the devices which were then entered in the Science Olympics.

Bung Fan and Aly Surani placed second overall in the Wind & Water competition. Their apparatus involved a wind-powered pump to move water from one container to another which was at a higher level. This is a commendable achievement, considering that there were approximately fifteen schools competing from Ottawa and the surrounding region.

Lian Quan and Shan Pandher placed third overall with their entry in the spaghetti bridge competition. Their bridge, constructed entirely of commercial pasta, supported a mass of one and one-half kilograms for a period of ten minutes, and weighed approximately three hundred and fifty grams.

One of our members, Jonathan So, was also very successful in the local Science Fair, this spring. His project, involving fibre optics and the detection of light intensity, placed second in its category, and also received two other special prizes.

Overall, the science team members made a valuable contribution to the life of the school, and were excellent representatives of the school in the various competitions in which they entered. Most of them also learned some valuable lessons regarding the nature of science and technology, and the challenges of constructing a design project. (Mr. M. Wearing)

Math Competitions

In mathematics contests sponsored by the Universities of Waterloo and Toronto this past year, 67 of 165 Ashbury students, who participated in these contests, received certificates of distinction. Thus 40.6% of our participants finished in the top 10% of all contestants across Canada - an outstanding result.

These contests act as a supplement to our regular mathematics program. They challenge the students to strive for excellence and to develop their problem solving skills. Our students have definitely met the challenge. Congratulations to all of our participants. (Mr. Stableford)

The Debating Society

Ashbury debaters in both the English and the French/Bilingual sectors spent a busy year traveling as far afield as London, England, Sydney, Nova Scotia, Vancouver, Chatham, Kingston and Toronto. They competed at the Regional, the Provincial and the National level, and a few were involved in international events as well. Specific activities ranged from the weekly lunch time debate meetings, after-school training sessions, inter-house debating, debating exchanges with Elmwood School, three rounds of the Fulford League, the Queens University Invitational, the International Independent Schools Public Speaking and Debating Tournament, Toronto French School Tournament, the Canadian National Debating Tournament and the National Public Speaking Tournament. Highlights and special events certainly include the conference with Leader of the Opposition Preston Manning, and there was Tony Navaneelan and Andrew Magnus' debate trip to Oxford University. New debater Sinan Baltacioglu picked up top honors at his first Fulford and James Irwin had the final word at the CBC television forum on the NATO war. The spirit, energy and talent of Ashbury debaters was most evident in the work they put into hosting the Junior Provincial Championships in February. Ben Barry shone as the keynote speaker and Jamie Gannon and Melinda Sellers worked their magic in the tabulation room. In the background, Alex Boulos, Jessica Greenberg and Jonathan So arranged the judging, billeting and officiating.

At the traditional year end awards BBQ, stories were exchanged about a train ride from hell, the rank sea water that went from sea to sea, a Wican debater, bad judging, good cookies, old friends and romance on the circuit! We had more to do but we just ran out of time. Next year will be even better. Thanks for everything to advisors Marilynne Sinclair, Charlene Hergert and Dejan Stojanovic.

Community Service

Ashbury has a solid reputation of involvement in community service through the generous support of the humanitarian concerns. Last November chapel donations were sent to the victims of Hurricane Mitch through the Red Cross. In December the senior school supplied twenty-four families in the Ottawa Carleton Region with Christmas hampers. These are just two examples of the continuation of Ashbury's fine tradition of outreach to others.

In addition, we have more than one hundred grade twelve students this year involved in both regular and seasonal events. Collectively this group has contributed more than thirty-five hundred hours of community service in a wide range of activities.

Students have supervised and tutored young people after school at Manor Park, Rockcliffe Park and in the Ashbury Junior School. Teams have been involved serving meals at the Shepherds of Good Hope, organizing a weekly bingo at the Island Lodge Nursing Home and score-keeping for various athletic events here at Ashbury.

Several students completed their required hours by undertaking a personal option in an area of special interest. One student spent a week of the Christmas break on a project helping street people. Another offered computer skills to an accident prevention program for children.

Frequent letters and telephone calls from agencies and individuals continually convey appreciation for our Ashbury students and for their contribution of time and talents. It has been my pleasure to work with the students and the enthusiastic team leaders this year and to discover with them the joys of serving others.

Stand and Deliver

The early steps to presenting the play began in early October, roughly six months ago, when Mr. Simpson began auditions. At the first cast meetings, we received scripts to familiarize ourselves with, shortly before Christmas break. Our first few weeks of rehearsals, starting in the beginning of January, seemed long at first as we adjusted to the schedule (3:30-6 every weekday, 9-5 on Sundays). The cast received great amounts of information on the lives of the LA lower-class people our characters are based on. Of course, we also started forming what would become the characters we present on stage. Much like the members of the cast, the characters in the play gave up their free time, and put hundreds of hours into learning. In the end, they came out changed people, in every possible good way. In that sense, Theatre Ashbury and "Stand and Deliver" are not so far removed.

A Year of Music

This year has been a transitional year for the music department. A lot of talent seems to have sprung up in the junior classes, so focus was shifted to develop this resource. The near future looks promising. Mr. Tanod, musical director (by both merit and default), was an immaculate super-hero display, balancing two choirs, jazz band, the mighty and cacophonous concert band as well as the regular classes all on one strand of hair, while appeasing the warring but solid Quarter Past Midnight vocal quartet, and revealing how eternal truth is embodied in R. Murray Schaffer's "Maniwaki". We are truly lucky to have such a fine teacher and human being. Peace everyone. (Adam Daudrich)

Showin' their pearly whites; Meghan W., Greg P., King and Queen of the dance; Jessie R., Jeremy D., John F., Chillin'.

International Day

This year's International Day was bigger and better than ever before. The morning started with a performance in the theater by Ashbury students. Everyone from Kweku Adjaye-Kwofie, to Amanda Bon showed the students about their culture in a dance, song, or skit. There was also a fashion show which showed the hippest clothes on the runways throughout the world. The day started with singing of "Oh Canada" by Erin Williams in English and Stephanie Hanna in French to the amazing backdrop of an original cartoon by Omid Razavi. The show was hosted by the day's organizers, Ben Barry and Omid Razavi. After the spectacular show, the 20 food booths opened offering food from every continent. This was coupled by an energetic dance which was D.J.ed by Dylan Argument. After lunch, Notre Dame High school presented a mosaic of dance, music and poetry from their school under the direction of Bette Shubert. The best part about the day was the rush of energy, enthusiasm, and excitement throughout the student body. This was a day that will never be forgotten!!!

Thanks to Mr. Stojanovic and Dr. Ehly for all their encouragement, support, and help.

The Spanish Exchange

Can you believe we saw so much in such a short time? (Madrid, Segovia, Toledo, El Escorial, Granada, Sevilla and MORE!) A visit to the Palacio Real and an evening at the Opera (Teatro Real), Jeremy and Sra. E's confrontation with thieves, a reception at the Canadian residence, searching for the 3 Graces at the Prado, singing in the Metro, dancing at the 7 floor Kapital Disco, rowing in the pond at El Retiro, eating pigs legs (hooves included) OLE! a HUGE thank you to Sra. Edwards, Sra. Rajani and Sra. Ehly por un viaje incredible! Muchas gracias! (FARAH MERANI)

Clockwise from top right: "On the steps of El Escorial; Sightseeing and shopping in Granada; A panorama of Granada in the background; A visit to Cervantes birthplace; What a group!; Reception at the Ambassador's; A spectacular view overlooking the city."

Tour de France

The 1998 Summer Tour de France was once again a great success and a wonderful learning experience. Our group consisted of 23 students, 2 parents, a student leader, Dr. Ben Herique and his brother, Emmanuel. Over a period of 3 and a half weeks, we went to Strasbourg, Paris, St. Malo, Kehl, Nice, Cannes, Monaco and Rheims. Some of the highlights included meeting a pirate lady in Strasbourg, the hike up the mountain to reach the castle, getting lost, Olivia's wild, nightly antics, Max and Scowler, the "fine French Cuisine," and of course, the World Cup of Football. We were lucky enough to be in Paris on the same night that the French national took the cup in an incredible match against Brazil. I don't think any of us expected to see the level of celebration that unfolded before our eyes in the 48 hours following the game. It was as if everybody in the city had come out into the streets to celebrate! Needless to say, we got very little sleep before our long flight back to Canada. Thanks to Dr. Herique for organizing such a special trip, and to Magalee and Emmanuel for putting up with us! (Mike Sallot)

The Japanese Exchange

At the beginning of the school year, Ashbury once again had the wonderful opportunity to host a Japanese student exchange. Students from Asago, Japan arrived at Ashbury on a dark and rainy Thursday night. They spent a week in Ottawa and learned much about Canada and our customs. They visited Upper Canada Village, saw the Parliament buildings, and did many other fun activities. Ashbury students also learned a lot about the Japanese and their customs by watching a performance presented by the exchange students. Overall, it was a great way to learn more about a different culture, and was very much enjoyed by the Ashbury students who were involved. (Ashley Ham Pong)

Outdoor Education

The outdoor education started the year with a very busy first term, but was plagued by poor weather for winter survival, and busy schedules in the spring term. There was the annual climbing of Mt. Washington to start the year, hiking and canoeing trips. The German and Japanese exchange students were given a taste of Canadian nature.

Special thank you and good-bye to Student Leaders Ian Carveth and Greg Powell for all their assistance and time over the last years. Good luck in the future.

This year's yearbook committee was a collection of many different people with only one thing in common: all had very little knowledge of how to make a yearbook. This was a rebuilding year for the yearbook committee, especially after our two editors and our principal photographer graduated last year. Furthermore, one of our experienced staff members, Mrs. Rust, also left. However, this year's team, led by the valiant Mrs. Ford and newcomer Mrs. Edwards, proved to be quite resourceful. They demonstrated many times that they were able to meet all deadlines even if that meant sacrificing their vacation time. Special mention goes to Monica, who came in to finish her pages just before she left on the grad trip. Others who gave up their vacation time were Titus, Kim, Matt and Aly. Matt also took over the difficult position of head of photography, but with Aly's help took many great pictures. Credit is also due to those who helped out periodically during the year. Dave, Andrew, Mike, Kelly and Nick all helped out at one point or another. However, a major reason why this year's yearbook team was so successful was the excellent leadership provided by Mrs. Ford. Whenever a task had to be accomplished, she was there. If people hadn't finished their pages by the deadline, she would take matters into her own hands. Without her, no yearbook would have been produced. All the yearbook staff are very grateful to her. By the way, if anyone wants to help out next year...

Clockwise spiral from top left: Kim W. looking through pictures; Matt L., Mike S., "Who's the guy in this picture?"; Ali S., Brian Q. "We've gotta meet this deadline!"; Nick K., David F. Boy do these guys work hard or what?; Mrs. Ford, Titus v.d.H. "Can you log me in?"; Mrs. Edwards, Monika I. "Awesome layout!"; Mrs. Ford, Grace T., Kim W., Ali L., Matthew L., Mrs. Edwards, Lucas W., Mike, Jonathan S., Nick K., Andrew N., Say Yearbook!

Knowing me I'd probably forget to include someone important in my grad writeup, so I decided not to mention anyone specifically. There are a couple of groups I'd like to mention: To Rugby Girls - Kick Butt next year. To Quit 4 Life - I can't believe you all cheated! I could write another 800 characters on my Theater Ashbury experience alone, but I can't. So all I can say is that it was a blast and to those who know what I'm talking about: Keep the Promise. Mom & Dad, thank you for making this experience possible. And finally to those people I care about or who have made a difference in my life, you know who you are. I'd like to say thanks, I'll miss ya, and stay in touch.

"It's exciting. There's lots to do. You are never going to get bored."

- Winston Bennett, Grade 5
 I have spent the better part of the last nine (9!) years defending that statement, claiming to have been just a naive grade 5 student, not yet warped by years of Ashbury College. But as I leave, I realize Ashbury has been everything I said and more. I have made friendships that I know will last a lifetime and will leave this school with memories to cherish forever. Here's to: 'The Boys' (Posse-JA, SA, CB, MM, DS, GP, AD, IC, CD, JG, SMC, Cwy, GR, JT, CT, NR, SM, JB, MN). 'The Girls' (SD, KB, IA, JVP, MT, JS, KP, SH, Sass, NL). 'The Sis'-Nat, Fashion advisor, shoulder to lean on, friend, who could ask for more in a sister? (Love ya.) 'The Rents'-You always supported me in every way possible, I owe you so much, thank you. Lastly, to all of those who shared a piece of their life with me - It is all of you who made Ashbury College what it was, the greatest years of my life. Thanks.

Has it really been 5 years since I first entered this school as a scared grade 9? According to linear time: yes. Basically, all 5 years are a cumulative blur, but I'd love to thank the Syndicate (AM, MS, YR, MR, JDH, HM, AG, AD, CF), the boys in the flats (NR, SM, SS, FV, PM, RJ, WW, DR, DTR, JAS, MA, IH, ML, HM, KSL), the Wreck Hockey squad (SI, JT, DC, KF, etc.), The White Jerseys (MS, JP, JF, PG), and any other people who put up with my antics and made life interesting. Speaking of interesting, those 3 prefect meetings I went to seemed like they were. Thanks to all of the teachers and boarding staff who've supported me, thanks to my family for the freedom, and thanks to Tsang for the anti-grad trip. I can honestly say that after 5 years at this place, I'm ready to MEET THE NEW BOSS...JUST THE SAME AS THE OLD BOSS

To all those I know well and to those I wish I knew better, thanks for making a difference in my life. Aidan, Sarah A, Kevs, Allan, Ian, Meggs, Greg, Insta Winsta, Steph - thanks for all the laughs (and hugs). My 3 Woollcombe years were fantastic (thanks to Julia, Shano, Nowshad, Kerry, Kouks, Isabelle). Mom & Dad - I never would have made it this far without you. GHS - you taught me how to fly; you're my Kimo. Best of luck to TA next year. MH, RJC, CM, MAP, DS, MEJ, GRV thanks for the support. "I can't remember all the times I've tried to tell myself to hold on to these moments as they pass." Here's to new beginnings. All the best, Sarah.

Hey now! Three years have come and gone pretty quickly. Sometimes I wonder where the time has gone and then I remember: working, sleeping, slacking off, eating, partying, hard rockin' with the band (Ror, The Bri, Toby K.)... Thanks to all those for three of the best years of my life: A.B. (for all the trouble we've gotten into together!), E.M. (through thick and thin, the spaghetti incident?), A.L. (for always being there), M.C. (shut up!... make me), D.I. (J.S.'s GMC), Tsang (ehh!), A.S. (the wRECaGe, racks), Mr. MacF (for making Geo class fun), Mr. G (for helping me succeed), Mrs. J (for making me speak), and to my family for making sacrifices in order to send me to Ashbury.

It's been an awesome year. I'd like to thank Mon and Dad for always being there through the good, the bad and the ugly. I love you. Sarah you're the coolest and don't you forget it. Thanks to Mr. Gray, Mr. Sparks and Mr. Napier for the support. Now it's time for shout outs. 3 years at Ashbury! That (surprisingly) past quite fast. Apart from the loads upon loads of work that teachers deemed appropriate to pile on, I had some good times, sometimes even doing some projects?!! Now that's odd!! 3 years of rec hockey, Friday night skiing, scamming ski passes and teaching snowboarders to jump was fun! Chapel, what Chapel?? Thanks Mr. MacFarlane, by far the coolest homeroom teacher ever, Mr. Stojanovic, Mr. Grainger for the great classes and all the help, Doc for all the bike trips and grade 11 chem and my parents for sending me here and all the help they gave me. CT, KF, JT, RB, KB, KAB, SA, WB, BM, MC, JDH, IA, KSL, SM, DF, the economics crew and all those I considered friends thanks for all the fun and keep in touch!

Two years of boarding life have come to an end, and now it is time to move on. It has been a great experience. I never believed that I would be able to love and hate one place at the same time. What I particularly liked about Ashbury is the obvious fact that serious intellectual effort is not an obstacle to a good spirit of companionship, fun and various hobbies. I hope that all remaining students will have a great time. Special thanks to: Stojanovic Family, my parents, my sister Ana, Mr. Thomas, Mr. Grainger, Mrs. Kane, Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Noonan, Mr. Keyes, boarding staff, the best teacher Mr. Randy "Life is such" Coles, his majesty (he wishes) Holger, Alex the Great aka "Chief", Joel, Rieke, 7:00 A.M. When I first walked into the school the only guy I knew was Eddy. I figured cool, I can chill with Ed. A month later, during a game of lumberjack ball, I stepped on him with my work boots and broke his collar bone. In grade 8 I got punched a lot. Then in grade 9, I went to Calabogie. In grade 10, I had English with Mr. Jansen (the stash is for real). In grade 11, the geo table was in effect, 'when I grow up, I want to be alive!' In grade 12, I had sparesso we could ____? In grade 13, we went out. Thanks to all my tutors that put up with me, my teachers for believing my excuses, my bike for giving me a reason not to do my homework, Pete and the family. Sincerely, (CAVE).

8 years are pretty hard to sum up. I think I'll resist the urge to get all cryptic, quality instead of quantity. If it weren't for this school I would never have met Chris Brownlee who I think I can honestly call my best friend. He and I have stuck together for all five years of high school. Many others have played a large role in my life to name just a few, Josh Winston Steph (FUZZ) Chris DANNY Chris D (Shabubu) and Jon A. If there's anyone I've missed I'm sorry but you know I appreciate you. Alright just a few insiders, Corky, I am in season, the trouble is girls (sometimes), and 9 nights 5 parties. To the teams that I've grown with and helped become champions (ie Rugby) thank you. School isn't complete without teachers and while all of you made my time fun Mr. Niles and Mrs. Jowett stand out in my mind as the ones who made it great. Finally my family which made it all possible, really, thank you Mom Dad and Meghan, I love you.

It has been an interesting seven years for me at Ashbury, but the time has come for all of us to broaden our horizons. Thank you to Mr. Niles, Mr. Lister, Mr. Stojanovic and above all to Mr. Jansen, for their guidance. Thank you to Zein, Amy, Skylark and Sasa just for being. Special thanks to the Syndicate (Mike, Bear, Ricky, Julian, Carl, Danny, Henry, Adam and Kelly) for being the kindest, most creative, and interesting group of friends anyone could ever hope for. I wish the best for all of you.

I can't believe I'm still alive-Thanks Mr. T the music soothed my soul, Mr. J for the inspiration-My many families gave me strength-The Syndicate, love is blindness-Amy you taught me more than you can imagine. Don't fear falling in love even if you have to fall. Don't forget tears we shed, times we shared. I'll always remember you-Tasha you're a great friend-Sean don't fear the unknown-Matt you'll find the strength you're looking for-A year as a boarder proves they are insane! My boarder family, you made it laughable JVP, SM, NR, JAS, JS, KR-Isabelle don't stop laughing-Candice my crazy room-mate. Wherever life takes you, consume lots of cream cheese, believe in life after love, don't fear the dark-ness, be resilient, lose control, procrastinate. It's been three years in Ashbury and four years in Canada, huh!..what have I learned during these four season, multicultural white country. I have learned so many things both outside and inside
Ashbury, sometimes I have learned good new things or the opposite and who knows but they sure did turn out to be very interesting. Ashbury was a good school to study and somewhat challenging I guess but worry no more cause I am out of it, no more dts and no more high school.
I would like to thank all the teachers who taught me for the last three years and some who know me. Special thanks to my parents for sending me here to study in a safe environment I guess. Thanks to all who know me, and well, it was nice knowing all of you too and good luck to those who are graduating this year. S.

Neil 458 always. Mom and Dad - thanks for everything that you've done for me Love You. "They would not find me changed from him they knew - Only more sure of all I thought was true." R Frost.

Life, Ashbury, everything can be summed up in the sport of football. Grade 9: a little shy, 120 lbs, afraid of getting cut, hurt, or played. Points for: 0. Grade 10: played most of 60 min. in most games. Co-captain. Quarterback, DB, SB. Grade 11: senior team. DB, lost city's by 1 pt. Incredible. Grade 12: first in league. INT for TD, Baby! Lost in semi's (to a team who won 14-13 over the team we beat 36-6. Where's the justice?) Grade 13: neck problems. Coach Powell. City victory 10-3. These challenges, successes and failures, make us who we are. We have our gifts and we have our weaknesses. Others will always point out our weaknesses, but we've got to find our gifts on our own. We know what is right, what is wrong, and what will hurt, or we'll learn, most likely the hard way. If you expect respect, be the first to show it. The strong fish don't swim with the current. Too many people to thank and name. Thanks Mom, Dad and Mark - you taught me everything I need to know.

Although my time at Ashbury was short, many good things were still accomplished. To all the special people that made it more bearable... Cassandra - you are the best/drop off area accident/car rides at lunch, Rebecca - scary bus rides in the slums, Sarah - Hungry much? trail of food, Aron - lunchtime meetings at the lawyers house, Tanya - dancing queen (Cancun 99'), Bridget - Pat - the true definition of a monkey, Emma - they have legs!, Kweku - that's way harsh!, Larissa - I love you like a sister and Duncan - who has mean genes. Anyone I failed to mention - you know who you are. To all my girls (BHS), and my friends, past and present, my teachers and my parents; thank you for your love and support but mostly for the memories. "Of all the paths you take in life, make sure a few of them are dirt."

As I've already thanked all those grads that matter in that "other book we know nothing about", this is where I get to thank all the others that count: Biku, Shano, Bram: You guys deserve another mention - Thanks 4 everything. Julia v.P, Isabelle, Jyoti: you too. TN: don't think I'll ever be able to thank you enough. Mrs Kane: mom away from mom - You're the best. SKCG, JK, BK, DF, MS, CT: thank you for making this place work. Beef, St., Ghetto, and Nii: you guys are awesome, never lose your spirit. GGT, Mrs. Mayer: where would I be w/out you? Big bro Mo: thanks for all your support w/ this place, & in everything else I've done. Little bro Asif: I hated having to be away from you. To my amazing parents: the sacrifices you made & make every day so that I may grow will never be forgotten.

Three years and $75,000 is a lot to pay but worth it for the fun I had. Some risky experiments but no nightmares. I'll never forget y'all: IA- The top ten list expands forever...how are my teeth? Hmm, rectilinear motion!; JVP-(whata banana!) "This is a job for REALLY DARK LIPSTICK!" Friends forever, no matter how high up you wear your pants; Chris (the coming messiah)- Some day we'll rule the world, complete with monorails! Summer of 69, air horns and pool noodles (more violence gives more squirt); Thanks whoever called me frisky; Rugby- MM- Vanilla = carnage! SM- aLmonds, 1:00 a.m. call waiting, ebonics, the old "bible on the pew" trick; WOOLLCOMBE (in your face) the best part of it was slipping--I mean signing out... thanks boarders NR, CS, EM, JS*2, KS, Davids (2-2-2 at 2:22 a.m.); WB, Corky, JG, SM, CDJ, If I worked at Hot Shots would you come see me?? McClaren girls- Jerry Springer, soaps; It was fun, thanks for the memories.

Looks like it's over. All the bad times easily eclipsed by the fun times. Zip funniest man alive / Yik keep the models under control / Kelly don't kill Zip / Henry keep the jokes comin / Dunc were still Masta Blasta (undefeated fooz) / Sudan I believe you / Masao wake up / Colleen thanx for all the spares Have Faith / Jule never change / Dave C- H stay cool Ice man / Daudy I want some cole cuts! / Chimp you better not spawn / SHYOPUMP IT! / Mohan & Nowshad represent my Indian brothers / Rugby team we're taking it all this year! Top Gun, Darkman Excuse Me!, Jack Frost, Mini Fooz I'm still champion! Treat Williams (Now What!), Jon Voight, Bears, George Micheal (WHAM!), Transformers I still function! Bon Jovi, Shouldaz, laughing at Como, Kickin and takin names, trying to eat dining hall food, Mayor Mc Cheese pour some sugar on me! Sarah never forget what I told you, Mr Miedema, you're in here too. Most of all I would like to thank my family for all they have given me, See Ya!

So many...
Yes! It has been three years where so many things have been accomplished and so much time spent in this place. From the outside to the very inside, Boarding is the word. From the multiples friends, brothers, sisters and people that shared a part of my life, I would like to say thanks you! So many souvenirs that will remain forever because, boarding has no definition to my eyes but family, unity and support. So many late night parties in the room, so many showers (Communal showers!) so many things that I would share may be in my old days. I like to give a shout-out to all my fellow boarders, especially to my Indians bro's, my Asian bro's, my Mexican bro's and of course my African bro's. Thanks to my people days-student, the boarding staff & faculty especially the graduating class, the Prefect body and anybody else not mentioned. If you need a music expert, don't forget McSawadogo is there for you! My advice: take what you can, you never know...Koux

It's time to say bye, I can't believe it! I want to say thanx to my house that made all those nights watching Jerry Springer times that I'll never forget! Then to all the boarders who made my boarding experience something special. A big thanx to the Hamie's crew for all the after school relief. Then a big hug and good luck next year to my Nike kids. To Kim I wish we could of spent more time together like last summer and for this a big hug to Isabelle too. I love you guys! Sarah my travel buddy thanx for the great times together. Aidan thanx for being there for me. Emile you're the best! Thanx for being my little brother. I'll never forget you. And finally to my little frog who turned out to be a prince you mean the world to me... Thank you all and remember that we only part to meet again.

Three years at Ash but they were three years filled with fun and maybe even a little growing up. To my girls, thank you for being there with me since my first day. Let us remember Toronto, parties and singing. Other things to remember: twins, driving to lunch, shopping, crazy driving: we're still alive! Tremblant, 160km/h racing, Asian club, WWF, Casino, Jan 1st, stealing sleeping bags: sorry Tsang, Sahara, Vaseline, 555-0429, Vandieu, massages, secrets, black box friends: you know who you are, long phone conversations, not sleeping, oral presentation, choir, people's elbow / package, running red lights. You know I will miss all of you: C house, SD, MW, MC, CT, JA, MB and everyone else I've missed. D&D I'll miss you much! Thank you Mom & Dad for giving me the opportunities. I love you.

I couldn't wait to leave but now I'm not too sure. Too much cream cheese? Emily.. thanks for hot shots, going DH, making me sleep, live life to the fullest (crazy "moral vision" but true).. pooh on a stick again? Well, we'll all die someday (cancer? never crossed my mind). Isabelle, work coming out of your pores? Chris, you owe me 2 weekends, baby! Jen, no more confusion please! Mon, we made it! MK, you go girl! AB, my s. buddy! To my fellow boarders, SM, NW, JVP, KR, JAS, KS.. 24/7 at Ash and dining hall- can't make it without y'all! Are you still sitting in the front foyer? No looking back.

High School= Le Bop, fake ID, Shooters and a crazy bus ride home, 39 Kilbarry Cres=2 huge parties + someone named Terry, New Years at Mont Ste-Marie and Gavin's, Hip x3, Neil Young and Pearl Jam, The Posse???, Saturday Night Hockey, parties at Brownlee's, Basketball, Rugby city champions, Football x5 (city finalists), St. Laurent Hockey, Choir trip in TO, The Boys in the weight room (Dan does not = Sell out), Manor Park, Grad Trip Daddy O, Le Boom (slammers and shockers), Cottage parties all of them, The Mansion, Mont Ste-Anne, Oli's parties in Grade 9. Special Thanks to Chris, Greg, Allan, Marsha, Ian, Mike, Steph, Emma, Steph H., Tait, Tom, Jesse, Jeremy, Kelen, Dave. Coach Gray I've learned a lot from the years of coaching. Thanks to AJS and Darcy, NJ thanks for believing in me. To my Parents all my love. Graeme, Adam and Oliver Kane you all were like brothers to me. I have enjoyed my time at Ashbury. Cheers.

For my 'Pin Pals', Stuart's almost-strikes and Matt (frolic)! Vulgar Mark (did you see that?), especially my little Craig and his massages, fingers in Kathy's ears, IB(3), spare-buddies and highlighter fights. To those who made me laugh EM, ML, JL, it wasn't easy, I know. Flashing Tony (no-no), stringz, NCMA reunion! Pinball, pool... I'm obsessed! Craig's bowling hats, semi-formal (MAC), hockey games, Subway waves, roses galore. My pink fetish, caesar salad, the big NY, long talks with Matt, and cheer-up shopping. Luv to Canterbury KH, ERL, JP, MCM, ME who led to where I am now, wherever that is. And to Drew, my best friend, thanks for taking care of me... forever yours. Thanks guys, I love you. Over and out...

Five years in Boarding ($125,000), Never to be forgotten. So many people, so little room. Thanx to the following: The Hamie's crew, The Syndicate, all the boarders that I've known, 7-11, Slurpees, Comics, Laundro-mats, The X-files, The Simpsons, Pizza, V-Games, and 2nd-hand smoking. Thanx to Duncan (first roommate), Sudan (The Weaver of tales), Ricky, Danny, Matt, Ni, Davids, Chief, YF, NR. Thanx to any of the girls I might have had a crush on (You'd be surprised how many). Thanx to the French Stereotype, The Sparks, Mr. Grainger, MAP. But more importantly, Thanks to my best friends, Emile Ares and Julia Schumacher; you will always be a part of me. You've made this the best time of my life. My favourite story, REMY & JULIETTE. Know this, I live not for myself, but for those I LOVE

The Moment: Spotters on the stairs. Lemons. Trains among a teaparty. Funkiwi. SYN in the machine. These will soon be echos though they'll be in my mind where ever I AM. Reflection: I believe I have found the meaning. And perfect moments are sometimes characterized by the re-occurring realization that "It's really good to have slightly (+/-?) insane friends." That's the understatement I'll make about the Syndicate. The span of the last 8 yrs have inspired me. This is inspiration to think and choose on my own. It's inspiration to be critical and analytical or totally carefree. Whatever it is, it's always a conscious choice to be what I want to be and to do what I want to do. Thank you, to the staff of Ashbury, especially Mr and Mrs Varley, Mrs Jowett, Mr Jansen. You've been very influential.

To sum up the last few years in a couple of sentences would be like drawing blood from a rock. As I flip the page to notice this chapter in my book of life is reaching an end (wow. oh so deep) I think I can say that I couldn't imagine enjoying life in the future as much as I have over the last few years. I don't know if that makes me naive or realistic. The last few years have blurred together, so without being specific, I'd like to pay tribute to all concerts, road trips, events and other good times that I involved myself with. Most of all I'd like to thank everyone who shared these good times with me. "Life goes by pretty fast. If you don't stop and look around once in a while, you could miss it."

Work like you don't need the money

Love like you've never been hurt

Love to everyone who has positively influenced my life at Ashbury. I

Wow, 5 years already! To my friends: Bair-nothing can sum up one of my best friends in 1 line. Thanks for all your support over the years. JT-the best Asian Bro, casino outings and your new friend S. Monkey. Shabubu-Don't lose your "handy" belt. Thanks for the tips. Steph-2 great years at Calabogie. You the man. Jen-No more DJ ing in my car ever! Go Billy! Monika-Thanks for being a true friend ever since day 1. Candice-Even though our time together had many constraints and was too short, the time that we did have is something I will miss and treasure forever. I will miss you all so much. Can't forget the rest of you: JD, SF, HM, RB, SI, KB, J "sweet talk" S, WB, CF, SM, JV, GP, DS, YF, MT, JA, MK, KS, CC, MC. Good luck and keep in touch. Oh yea, last but not least thanks Mom, Dad, and chubs for all your support.

Five years at Ashbury finally come to an end. Now it is my turn to use 800 characters to sum up my Ashbury life both as a boarder and a day student... I have learnt a lot of things to fulfill my life. I will always remember how to speak English, the skips, the freedom as a day student compared to the boarding life, what is love and friendship, spares, art IB, H.K trips and OCC etc. I will miss the following people after I leave: Maggie and Cindy Ho-Remember the 15 dollars jackpot in Montreal, Omid, R. Ben, B., Kim W., Sheila, J, and Jon So. I also would like to say thank you very much to the teachers who pushed my limit up during these five years: JMR, MAV, TD, LB, MES, CT, PSM, RZ, MH, CH, SKCG, LL, NJ and the school nurse for her unlimited support. Especially thanks to my mom, sister and my uncle for their care and support. Without you guys I would've died. Finally, I am done and I am gone. Dilila o mao and good luck folks! Bye!

If I were to compose a list of things that may or may not have occurred during my time at Ashbury, this list may or may not take the form of the following list.
Spares during spare, getting "cut off" @10:00: Wakestock, Boardstock, Rugby, Hockey, Combatez le Mesieur, Coffeemug, P3, the croo, interhouse midget toss, California: skating on pacific beach, Shawarma's, New years celebrations @ Tremblant, Numerous funny bands, Parts I, II and III, stretching the rules, interracial sports teams in P.E., bandito in Cancun "99", football (haha), little people, houses of coffee, warped tours, Bros, joining the communist party at the Ontario Summer Games, fun with hippies, The Messenger Pins, the stoop, "colorful" announcements, lots of laughter. Thank you: Roll call, girls, water, Alex, NJ, LT, Mr. Niles, RV, Doc, DF, Big Mac, NOFX, SRV, Dunc, Dave, and most of all MOM, DAD and KEA

This is to all of you that made my four years here so much fun: Third floor Holman House rocked, the chicken in the fridge, little monkey, bedtime Cranberries, candy, New York, life is like a box of chocolates, the Germans, Montreal weekend, March break '98, being gated, spares on our bench, fasting til the moon is born again, long letters with only the truth, brain-farts. The Rugby Team-you guys are amazing, Emily the bowling ball and Jess-I love you, Thanks Mrs. Featherstone. Thanks to my big brother, Mr. Featherrock, for taking care of me. Thanks to SKCG, JK, RP, NJ, LP. Mrs. Kane-take care of yourself. TN- thanks, you kept me sane. Kitchen staff-thanks, McKay House-you guys rock. Shano-thanks for taking me the way I am. I love you! Closing night always comes faster than you expected. Five years have come and gone in the blink of an eye. I never believed them when they said it would be over before you knew it. To the Middles, Tremblant, "Free Johnny Wilson", Daytona Beach, Germany and the Jeep. You are the foundation of what I will never forget. Memories remain most cherished for those who share them with friends, thank-you all for enriching my life. GP: Wish upon the stars. Ashbury has taught me so much, most which never took place in the classroom. RJC, GHS, M&RH, GRV, TAD, AS; you have inspired, touched and forever altered my life. Mom and Dad, you are the greatest teachers I have ever known, thank-you for your valuable time, enduring support and everlasting love. To laugh often and much. To find the best in others. To know that even one life has breathed easier because you have lived. This is to have succeeded. -Ralph Waldo Emerson.

I wish there was a way to put all of my amazing memories in words. Although, the best things are left unsaid, so here are my highlights: France (doves/shafts), Mexico (Acapulco), Cancun (T. poppers), Coffeehouses (Killing me Softly), Michigans (thank god) & Winconsin (yummy). Thursday runs, Cachet, Theater, Le Boom, Polo, Em'suave, gangsta's pair of dice, BJ, yo momma, semis. Thanks to GGT, MAP, NJ, DS, LB, DM, my mom, dad and Landin. Shot out to my boys, you know who you are. Finally to my girls who have made me what I am, lots of luv 4 eva: Mansi, Mij, Kath, Mon, Rads, Jan, Aish, Jen, Mar, Far. 3 years in residence is long enough for me. I've seen changes in the school, and experienced different aspects of boarding life. The last year was exhausting, but I've managed to survive. Soung Mok, Han, Sae, Alien (Please don't wear tight pants or shirts) ... etc: good luck next year, and don't burn the rice again. Thanks to Paul, Kim W., Rosanna, Chris T., Brian Q., Michael S., Rieke, Katrina, Wendy etc. for all the fun or help during these past 3 years. I don't think I could've survived without you guys. Now that I'm going to university, I guess I'll have to find a brand new group of people to help me again.

. . . & After

Once upon a time, there were four naïve young boys who embarked on a journey of monumental importance. They were to traverse the treacherous crevice called the Junior School. Donning their green fatigues, and wielding sharpened pencils, they charged the decrepit rope bridge that was to carry them to freedom. Tentative at first, they soon learned that the secret of survival on this bridge was to run as fast as they could towards the other side, allowing only short breaks to skive (followed by creeds and detention as punishment for this lack of focus), and the odd barmitzvah.

Nearing the other side, the now young men realised that their vision of freedom was not as close as it had seemed, but beyond the twin peaks of the senior school. Their spirits crushed once again, they tore off their green attire in frustration, revealing the blue cloth underneath. After climbing the first two mountains, the four rested a while in the lush fertile valley between the peaks, savouring the intoxicatingly sweet ambrosia. Realising that they must press on in the face of temptation, the four men scaled the daunting second summit. After reaching the final pinnacle, they paused to reflect on their nine-year journey. Physically larger, and intellectually stronger, it appeared as though the journey had helped build character. However, upon closer inspection, the four were pennyless emotional rats. While a happy ending would please everyone, the deranged four were unable to afford the professional help they needed so much, and thus couldn't fit into the world for which they were groomed.

A Timely Message from the Director

To realize the value of one year:
Ask a student who has failed the final exam.

To realize the value of one month:
Ask the teacher who has lost his or her lesson plans.

To realize the value of one week:
Ask the editors of this yearbook.

To realize the value of one hour:
Ask absent friends who at long last are waiting to meet.

To realize the value of one minute:
Ask the student who missed the bus to the rink.

To realize the value of one second:
Ask the friend who has survived a near fatal accident.

To realize the value of one millisecond:
Ask the person who won a silver medal at the Olympics.

Time waits for none of us.

Treasure each moment you are blessed with.

You know you teach at Ashbury when . . .

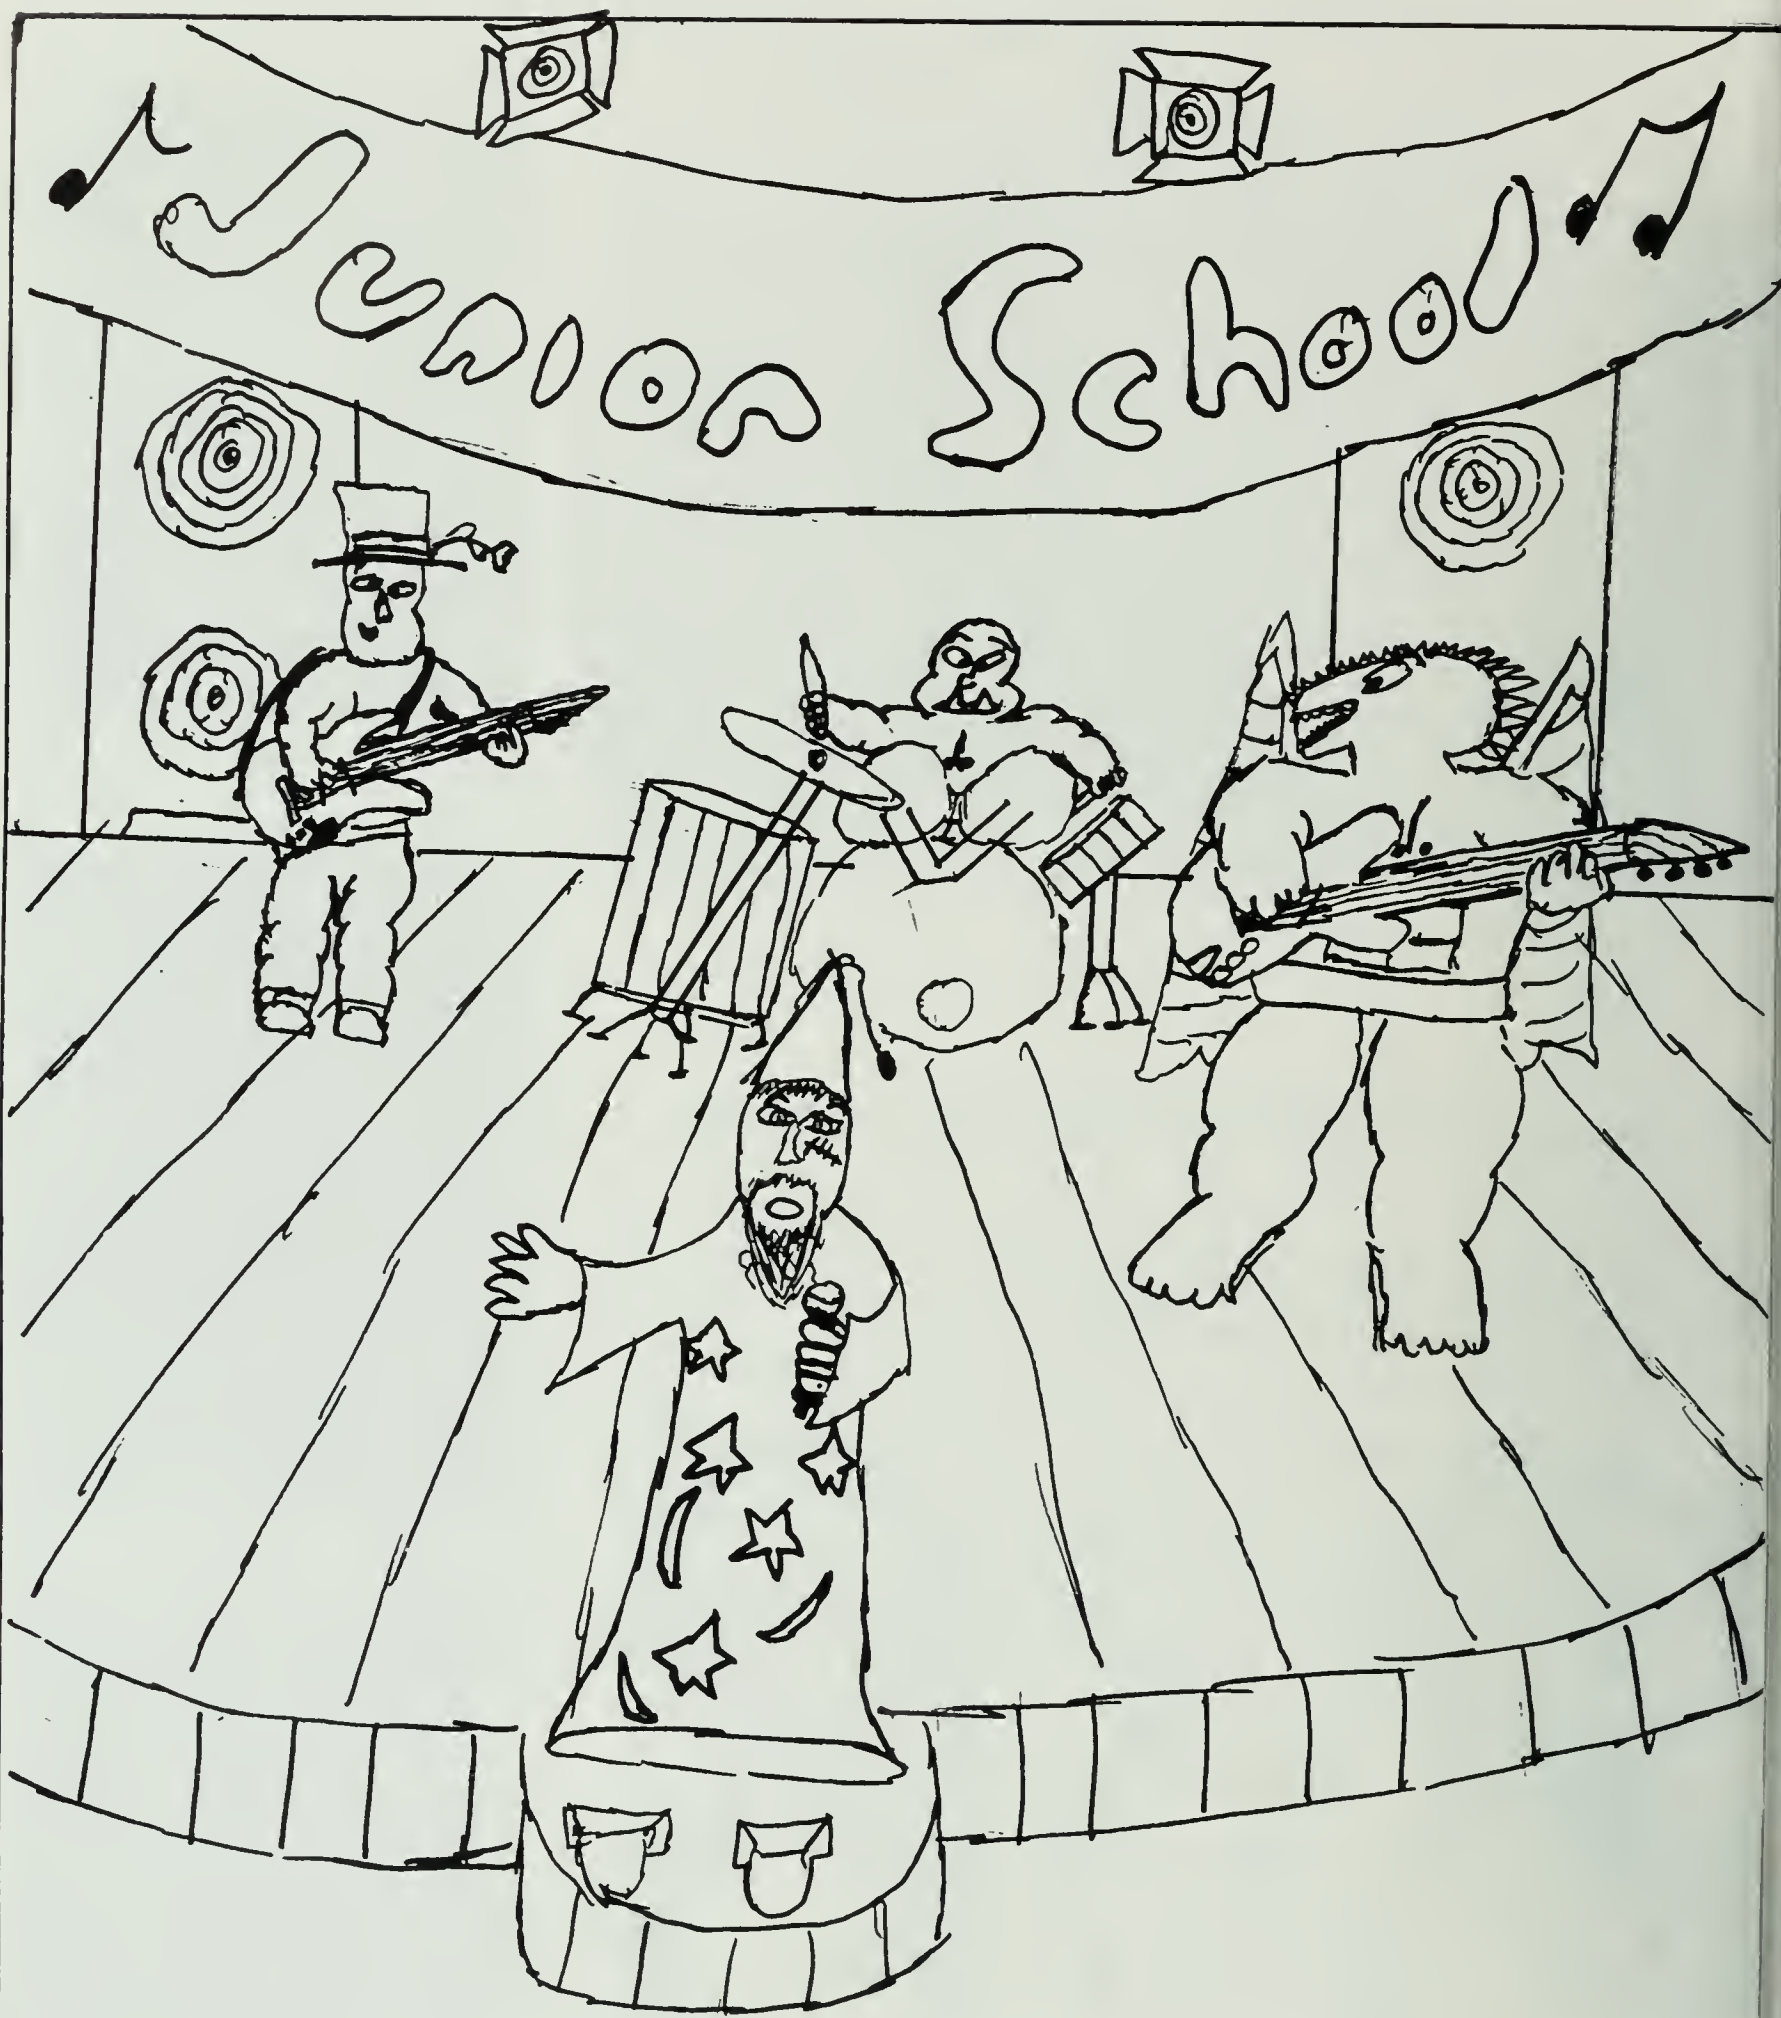

You know you teach at Ashbury when
 Your watch says 9:30 and a student's says ten
 And the clock on the wall, is no help at all.
 When you glance at the tower it's a different hour,
 (A different rotation, for each location)
 As you look in the eyes, of these innocent guys
 One smiling young chap hands you a clue,
 "Well, it really depends if it's day one or day two."
 A discussion ensues, each eager with news,
 As to the time or the day, each has his own say,
 When from the back of the room, from out of the gloom,
 As if from a coma, he sniffs an aroma,
 And emphatically sure, as the best connoisseur,
 Says,
 "Working on a hunch Ma'am, it really must be lunch Ma'am,
 And if that's pizza on the plate, it's gotta be Day Eight."

Gottcha!

Starting the year off at

Early in September, thanks mostly to Mr. King, all of the grade 7's made their way to Camp Cameron, near Perth, for three days of ice-breaking. This was the first of what is planned to be an annual trip. The days and nights were filled with enjoyable activities including camp fires, dramatic presentations, night walks and games. Everyone had a good time and nobody got lost! Thanks also to Mrs. Noonan, Mr. Montgomery, Mr. Polk, and Mr. Storosko for giving up their time.

Voyage à Quebec . . .

Clockwise from top: The group posed, like all tourists, on the Dufferin Walk; David, Matthew, Stephen, Daniel and Frederic in the Old City; Samuel, Chris, Matthew, Sascha, Joshua and Mike in a longhouse; the boys having a leisurely lunch. This year's trip was, once again, a great success. The boys will keep the happy memories for a long time. Thanks to Mr. Humphreys and Mme Morel for their hard work.

... et à Saint Donat

Clockwise from top: The boys spent most of their time outdoors; but, they still had energy left at the end of the day, especially Greg; Devon, Neil, A. Loon, Justin and Gordon mugging for the camera; the group planning out their activities. The weather was outstanding and the trip was a great success. Thanks to Mme Perrault for her time and trouble.

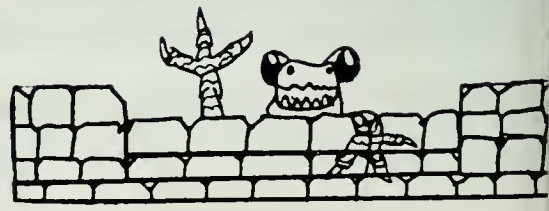

Poetry

Once again the annual Junior School Poetry Reading Contest was held on the last day of winter term. As usual the competition was fierce. David and Ryan were particularly dramatic, and Evan was an awesome shark. Many thanks to Mr. Hardie for his judging.

Reading

Clockwise from top left: Max and Ted represented 7K; Evan and David were 1-2, both from 8M; Thomas and Gordon read for 7S; Thomas and Ted of 8S; Ryan who was third, and Anis from 8H; Joshua and Neil (7P) both read poems by Poe.

Calvin's Poem
Presented by Ryan

I couldn't find a poem to present
In this competition
That people would not resent and not
Be subject to repetiton

So I went home and asked my brother
To write a poem to read to you
One that would surely cover
All the things that we're supposed to do

"A poem with drama!" I commanded
"With room for over acting!"
A poem with passion!" I demanded
My poem should have nothing lacking

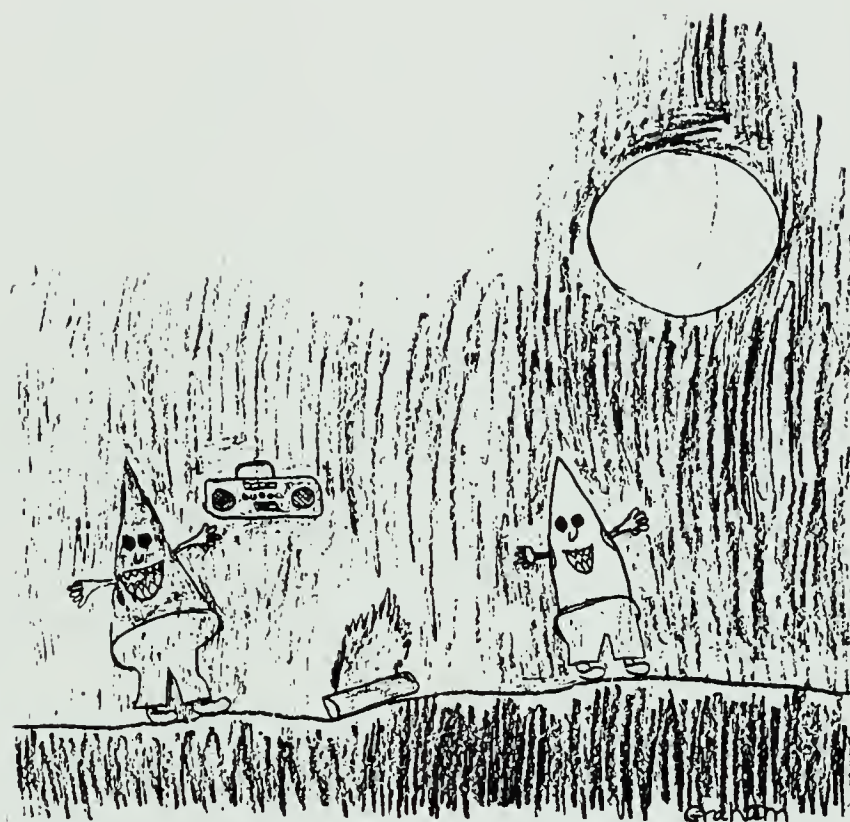

And so my brother set off to work,
Pushing his math and French aside!
To make this competition perk:
A poem that will leave you all wide-eyed!

This poem couldn't play up to my classmates
There had to be something for teachers & parents alike
And of course it must have that little touch of wit
That the judges always seem to like

So give me good marks for this lovely poem
And please excuse my inconsistent rhyme
My brother had a lot of homework
And didn't have a lot of time.

DANCING THORNS

Running around like foolish mice on a cold night
Waltzing like people at a cocktail party waving their pointy swords in the misty air wiggling to the music like untamed lions
Makes me think of splinters going around a fire

If My Face Were Outer space

Andrew Clark, Feb. 19

*If my face were outer space my eyes would be unknown planets hiding from human explorers my nose would be a tiny space station
orbiting around the earth and my eye brows would be spaceships from Star Wars fighting for survival and my mouth a black hole always sucking up everyone and every thing my hair would be comets and shooting stars falling down to earth
my dimples would be flying saucers always spinning my ears would be satellites transmitting information everywhere and last my cheeks would be galaxies far away waiting to be discovered*

Screaming Feelings

Sound as piercing as the voice of Don Ferguson
imitating Preston Manning
As irritating as watching one hour of Much Music and then watching a PBS telethon.
Frustrating like thinking of what to write in the Comp Lab.
Makes you as disgruntled as a member of the US Postal Service.
As maddening as sitting through an NAC French play.
Makes you drink as much as Boris Yeltsin to drown out the sound.
As enraging as waiting for slow computers
to "Update Workstation Configuration"
Makes me think that natural selection failed while matching the adjective
"screaming" and the noun "feelings"

Clockwise, from top: Ryan wowed the audience, and the judge, with his presentation of Calvin's poem. He finished a close third. Andrew Clark (5L) with his outer thoughts. A.J. Pander had to get his feelings off his chest, and he did so. Graham Booth (6V) as both poet and artist.

Thanks for the Melodies

Mr. McLean with choir members - For the past 2 decades Mr. McLean has inspired and built the Ashbury Junior Choir and the Ashbury Singers into a well known and respected choral group in the Ottawa community. He will be greatly missed by us all.

... and More Talk

Ryan proudly displays his debating trophy

The debaters: R. MacLean, C. Parkes, R. Davies, D. Lehrer, A. Polk, Ms C. Hergert

The Junior Debating Society had another great year. We met every Op time and conducted mock debates. In October, we attended The Independent Schools' Fulford Tournament at Royal St. George's in Toronto. We placed well in this high school level tournament. We participated in other tournaments at Grenville Christian College and at Elmwood. At the end of March, Ashbury College hosted 80 students from schools across Ontario for the Junior Provincial Debating Championships. We emerged with a sixth place finish by Ryan Davies and a twelfth place finish by Christopher Parkes. Many thanks to Ms. Hergert for her coaching and her support.

Le département de français

Au cours de l'année scolaire, les élèves de l'école junior ont pu assister à de nombreuses activités culturelles et linguistiques. À part d'avoir participé aux voyages à Québec et à St. Donat, tous les élèves sont allés aux pièces de théâtre au Centre National des Arts. Nous vous invitons à lire les commentaires de deux élèves ainsi que des échantillons de travaux que certains ont réalisés.

Le Département de Français

L'orchidée

Je suis allé au CNA pour voir la pièce de théâtre l'orchidée. Cette pièce de théâtre raconte l'histoire de deux personnes qui s'appellent Geneviève et André. André a perdu son emploi et sa femme. Il est très impoli et misérable. Geneviève d'autre part est très jolie et dynamique. Elle a aidé André à devenir une très bonne personne. Jour après jour, André reste à la maison et regarde la télévision. Geneviève aime explorer et s'intéresse à la science. Elle aime jouer dehors. Finalement, André est allé dehors et il a vu comment la nature est belle. Il a appris qu'il peut s'améliorer et il reprend goût à la vie.

Le Cap Enragé

Un adolescent désillusionné et meurtri par un amour impossible trouve la mort au bas d'une colline. L'a-t-on poussé vers une mort prématurée ou a-t-il mis fin à ses jours en s'élançant dans le vide?

Le détective Victor s'acharne à découvrir le coupable. Tous les éléments semblent pointer vers Patrice. Ce dernier est l'ami de Véronique, la jeune fille tant convoitée par le pauvre Martin. Sachant l'amour que Martin porte à Véronique, peut-être a-t-il voulu éloigné définitivement ce dernier! Peut-être Martin a-t-il eu une querelle avec Véronique? Son collier était là où Martin a connu les dernières minutes de sa vie. Tant d'indices qui mènent le détective à questionner les adolescents. La clé de l'énigme se trouve chez la famille de Martin. Un poème écrit par Martin raconte l'amour qu'il porte pour Véronique. Véronique, soulagée d'apprendre qu'elle ne figure plus sur la liste des coupables, réalise maintenant à quel point Martin l'aimait.

L'amour fait parfois mal. Mieux vaut respecter les limites qu'il impose. Martin n'a pas su l'amadouer.

Dictée

Les élèves sont dans la classe de français. Mme Perrault, leur professeur leur dit de prendre leur cahier de dictée et leur stylo.

-Ecrivez la date, dit-elle.

- 1) champion
- 2) magique
- 3) rondelle
- 4) hockey
- 5)...

-Geoff, donne-moi la rondelle, crie Matthew.

-Une seconde, répond Geoff

Finalement Geoff a donné la rondelle à Matthew.
Matthew patine très vite.

-Il tire et il fait un BBBBBBBBBBBBBUUUUUUUTTTTTTTT!!!!!!!
Matthew a fait un but avec son bâton magique.

-Nous avons gagné, dit Geoff. Tu es un héros, Matthew!

Après la partie, l'équipe de Matthew et Geoff a une médaille d'or et l'équipe de Matthew et Geoff est championne.

-Bon, le dernier mot est "gagner", dit Mme Perrault.

-Quoi, quoi, quels sont les autres mots? demande Matthew, surpris.

Math & Science Moments

Math and science have a high profile at Ashbury. The grade 8 math team fared extremely well this year. In competition, they placed eighth in the province and twentieth nationwide. Well done Mr. Menzies and team members. Photo highlights: Above from the left: Gary competing in the Math Olympics at Laurentian High School; the Olympic team made up of grade seven and eight students from Ashbury and Elmwood - Stephen So and his partner, Sascha Lanks won a medal; Ryan and Lucas untangle a puzzle; Mike Matt and Saager displaying their robotic arm; Below from left: Danyal and Matt building a bridge; an anxious crowd awaiting the annual competition; Tom, Lucas and Derek; Barrett and Josh constructing robots.

Once again soccer was the featured fall sport at Ashbury. There were several highlights. The Under 13 hosted SMU-Victoria before the CAIS tournament, and then travelled to St Andrew's College in Aurora. The Under 14, once again, won the annual Bishops College School tournament. The Under 11 travelled to Hamilton and played Hillfield Strathallen School. As well Ashbury hosted two Saturday events with the U12 and the U11 playing The Priory and UCC. The grade 6 team travelled to Montreal. All in all Ashbury won its fair share of games.

Basketball continued its high profile at the College. The split season made for some complications, but had the advantage of spreading out the competition over two terms. Above we see Jason in-bounding; Ben guarding a Hillel player; and, from the same game, Duncan defending. Thanks to Mr. Street and Mr. Oswald for their time and patience.

The U-13 season began and ended with trips. At Selwyn House we advanced to the final but lost by a single basket. We felt confident as we headed to Calgary for the C.A.I.S tournament, at Strathcona-Tweedsmuir School. We had some success, defeating the eventual fifth place finishers, but because of the luck of the draw we were awarded sixth place. Basketball was, however, not the only highlight. The Calgary Zoo and Olympic Park were fascinating. Perhaps most memorable was our meeting with Don Cherry at the airport. Despite being warned not to, the boys admitted they were a basketball, not a hockey team! Mr. Cherry replied, "It doesn't matter. They look good in their jackets and ties." He was right. The boys looked good and behaved the same way. All in all a most successful season.

Once again, thanks to Messers Storosko and King, the Junior School boys enjoyed the usual blend of thrills, spills, upsets and dramatic endings. The team, which was selected from the group of 30 recreational hockey players, participated in three major tournaments: in Toronto and twice Montreal. Thanks to the famous "Loan-a-goalie" programme we fielded (iced?) a very competitive team. Captain, tenacious checker, and Most Valuable Player, Conor Steinberg, led by example. The scoring was spread very evenly among our snipers. Despite facing tough competition at the UCC Tournament, we emerged as the consolation champions. This modest success in Toronto was followed by our capturing the championship in the LCC Tournament. All in all a most successful year.

A blast of scorching air, like a furnace, fills the jungle with heat and perspiration. Parrots fly beneath the leaves while the snakes slither on the damp ground. The piranhas swim through the cool river. A few pink dolphins jump, and then disappear, beneath the dark water. The hot sun shines through the leaves, making golden patterns upon the floor, as the fiery beams of light shines on the animals. The bushes seem dry, in need of water. The trees bearing coconuts are a canopy partly blocking the light. There is some dew on the ground still for it is early in the morning. The monkeys clamber to get a hold of what small fruit there is left. They leap from tree to tree stopping and grasping. The beautiful flowers shine their colours and wake up this world of the jungle. Different sounds weave through the air like bats flying in a cave. The sound of water rushing over the cliff like a rock, sinking into it. A small mist rises and cools the hot air. The mud pool below the cliff like a rock, sinking into it. A small mist rises and cools the hot air. The mud is sticky and gooey like bubble gum. The sun shines its rays on the pond making it look like gold shining through from underneath the water. Morning has come to the jungle.

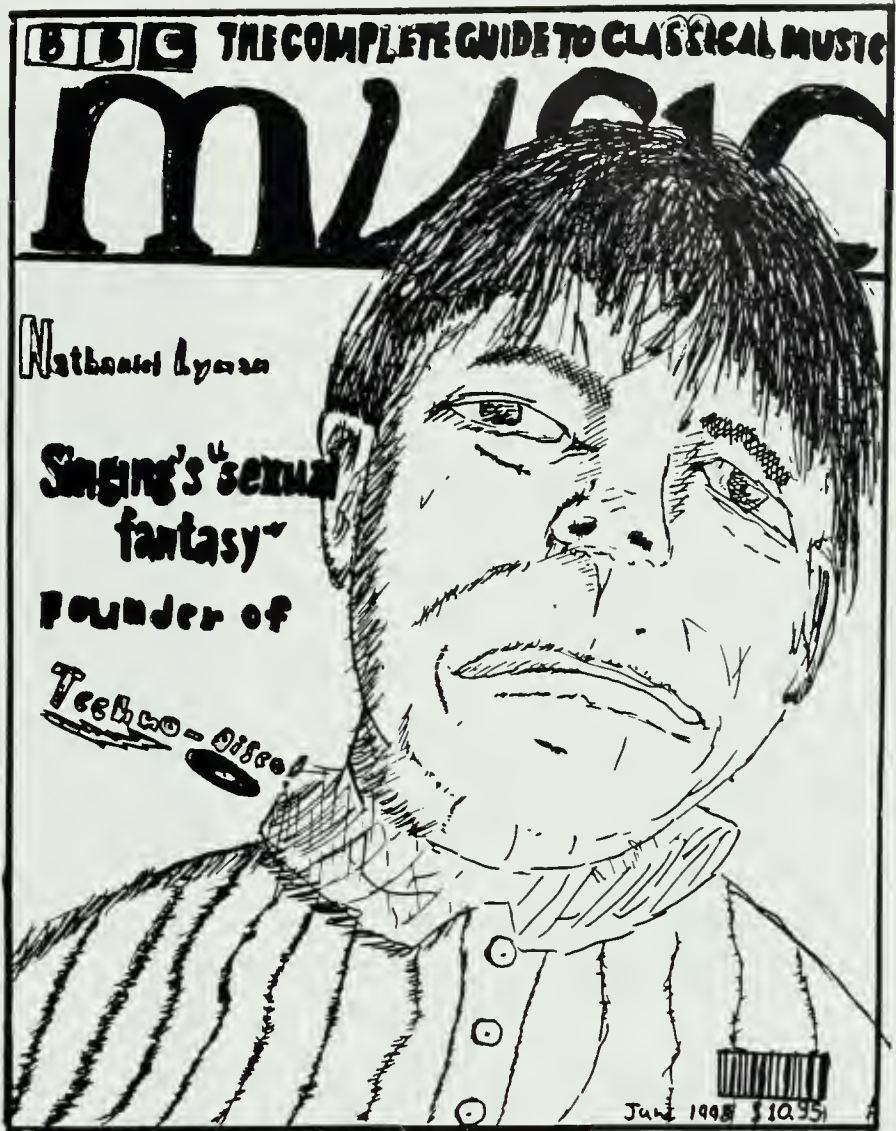

Clockwise from above: "The Jungle Morning" by Joshua Middleton (7P); "Tucan" by Andrew Black (8M); "The Jungle" by John Brandon; "Snake" by Jamie Low (8S)

The river flowed to an internal rhyme; rippling and rolling over in peaceful harmony; wispily touching the banks. Vines were slung to and fro to the jungle trees as they stood towering like kings, their trunks like stone, yet alive. Branches reached in vain to the sky. The sun, worshiped for its golden finger of heat, and its hand of light that reached down as if to hug the trees and the plants which are flowered in magnificent colors: red, tango, tryrian purple and kenyan green. These colors the lowest peasant to the greatest Roman Emperor craved.

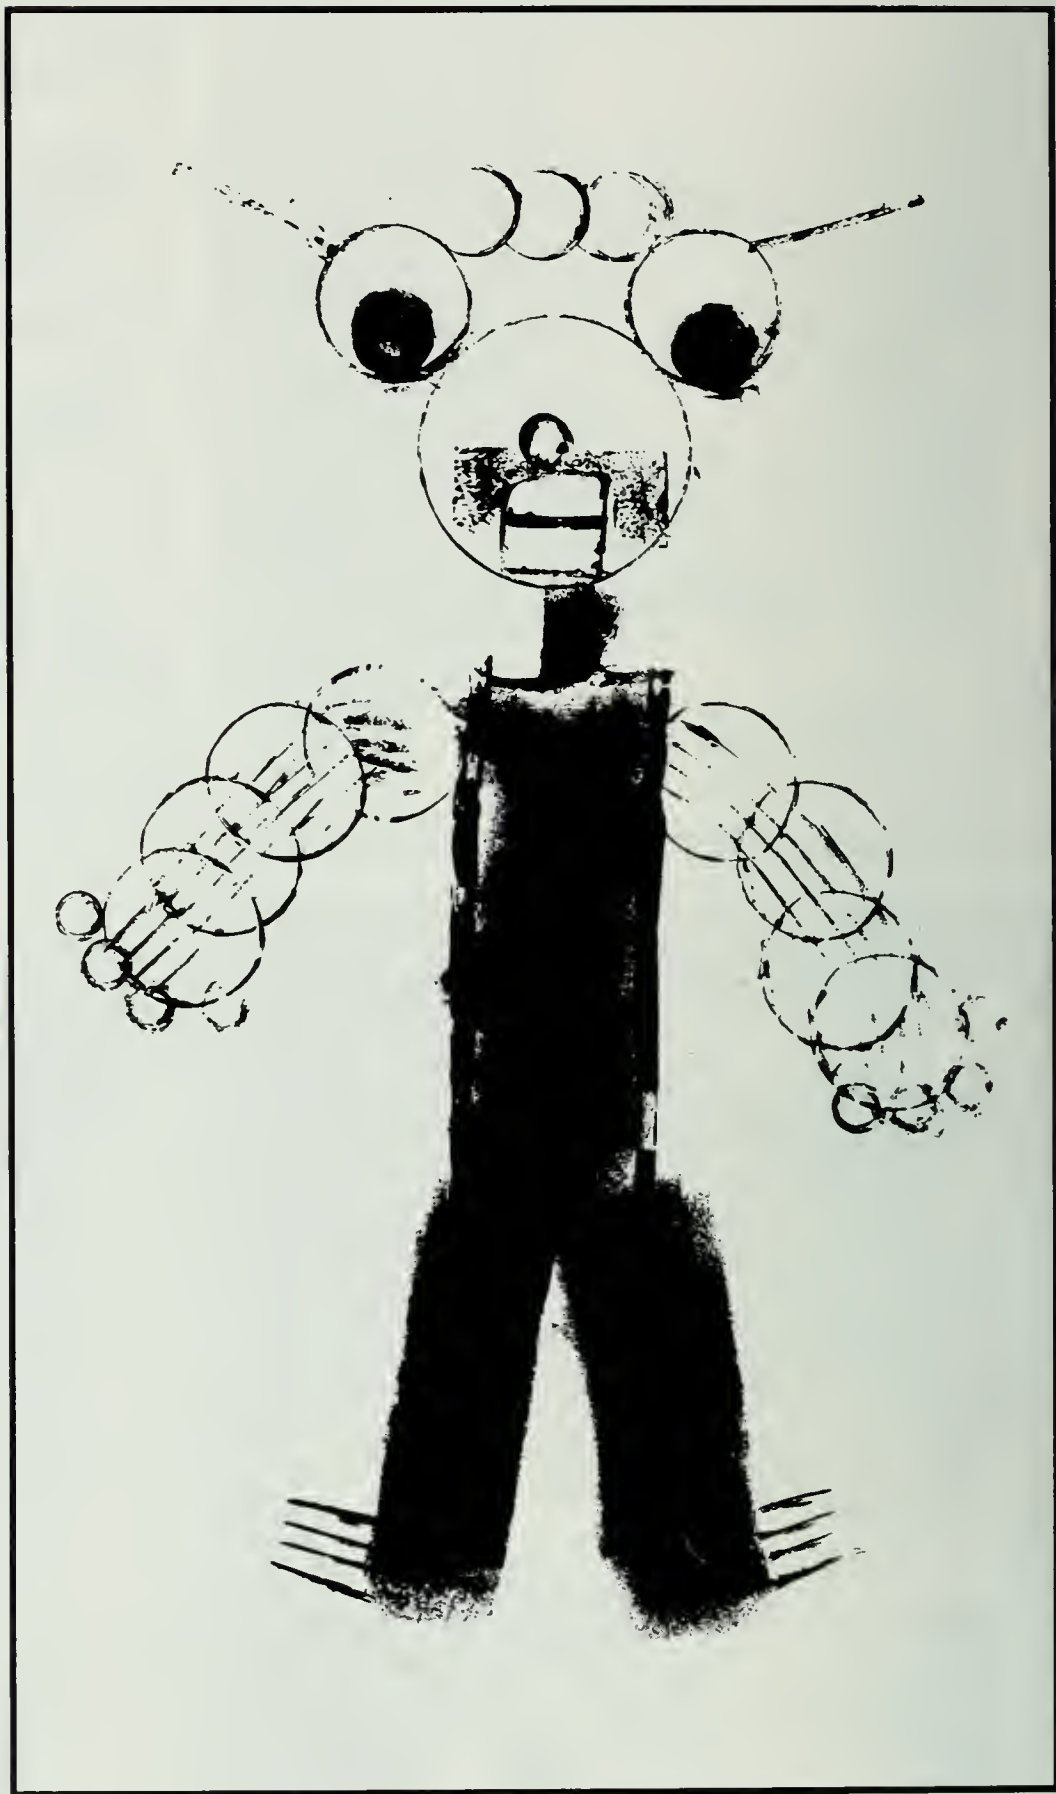

Deep to the Jungle moved the insects, lowest yet mighty to the Jungle for even the high rising plants bow down to these tiny creatures, not because of their sharp pincers or grand numbers, but by their crucial importance to the Jungle. They work as caretakers, cleansing the jungle to perfection. As the day draws to a close an eerie noise comes from the river, a buzzing sound like a hundred bees and what follows is a sawdust smell. It is the end of another day in the jungle.

Colours & Prints

White is the icy
Cold, winter snow
White is the harsh
Strong, year-end blow
White is the quiet
Soft, snowy hare
White is a ghost
On your underwear
White is the salt
In the salt holder
White is the wall
Beside your shoulder
White is a sweet
Bone of some meat
White is your cold
Frostbitten feet
White is the puffy cloud
High in the sky
Watching the creamy
Full moon go by

Blue is the sky
A lake and ice
Blue is perfumed
Clean and nice
Blue is the cold
Frosty, winter night
Blue is creamy
Like blue icing
Blue is sweet blueberries
Blue is sticky jam
Blue is strange
Like a little beetle
And neat like a
Big fat spider
Blue is sad
Blue is quiet
Like a flower
Blue is the Blues
On a dark night
Blue is a shadow
A painted door
Blue is soldiers
In the Civil War
But most of all
Blue is a colour
And I can see it
On you and another

Kingdoms

"Castle in the Air" by Ian Tattersfield, 5L

My name is Flame
I am the god of fire
all I eat is wood and paper
I am a giant on fire
the size of a bonfire
My people's power is a spark compared to mine
In fact, my people are sparks.
I can blow them to China
with a single breath.
My world is made of burnt wood
and ashes.
My people hate me
but I don't mind
because if they disobey me
I'll spit out a flame and suddenly they're not there any more.

The only way to destroy me
is with water,
but the closest stream
is on Earth
and its 9 000 000 miles away.
So, I can rule my kingdom
anyway I want and nobody will be able to do anything about it.

My kindgom is the ocean blue where the whales
the fish and the coral
are my subjects.
My kingdom is made out of the best salt water
from around the world.
It is like a thousands diamonds
shimmering on a bright winter day.
The ocean blue is my kingdom is made out of golden rocks from the land of mountains.
My breath is like a frosty winter wind
biting at your face.
My eyes are like the sun's beams hitting the surface of the water.
My hands are like the mouth of a great blue whale.
I am the ocean.

The Pine Trees

They're tall and green and full of life,
Stately quills adorning their limbs,
They're home for many
And food for some,
Provide shelter from the rain
a refuge from the sun.
They live through each season,
Summer, winter, spring and fall,
continuously rejuvenating
atmospheric needs.
Asking nothing more than to avoid the lumberjack's axe.

- Max Anisman 7K

Free Verse: Leaves

Drifting, from a tree;
with nowhere to go.
They come tumbling;
tumbling down.
The swift wind carries them;
pushing them from side to side
To the cold hard earth;
where they rest

- Rajan Pandher, 8M

The Eternal Tree

Trees, here before us,
Here with us,
and, Here after us.

Over hanging, howling, baring life, reaching for the heavens is

The Tree

Born here before us, and born with us, and born here after us is

The Tree

Dying in the fierce and cold anger of winter, and Coming to life in the hot breeze of summer is

The Tree

Growing tall, growing short, growing in all sorts, is

The Tree

From a seed

Here to take over the world, as they once did.
And yet, here We are - taking over the world
Chopping. Killing. This is what we do to trees.
Some day, just some day
We will miss
The Tree

- Anthony Tran, 7K

The Song of the Tree

The trees of Nature sing out to me.

Their beauty calls
and I wish to come.

Yet time restrains me from seeing the marvel
The marvel of the Tree,
the beautiful tree.

Do they wish to be left alone?
Yet, this they can not wish!
Their destiny awaits them

On a lifeless board of bark!

- Eric Lenouvel, 7K

The Search of Bear

Amid all the atmosphere
The bear was bawling bawling his eyes out
Cowardly calling his cousins
Desperately dashing with the deer
Endlessly looking for Emma and Edward
Foreseeing fate before his feet
Growling grumbling getting beat
Hungry helpless and hefty
Ironically idle in the trees
Jumping jagging and zigzagging
Killing time in kingly fashion
Lagging longing lying crying
Messy mourning metty
Nagging nolling hollering
Finally he found
Ogly pogly
Quester rester
Soggy toggy
Unda vunda
Wacka xacka
Yoyo zozo
Then the search of bear was over.

- Patrick McKinnon, 7S

Snake

Stealthily, quiet, deadly
the snake slithers through the grass, tongue flickers, quick as thunder;
picks up scent.
Like a time bomb waiting to explode;
its prey will soon be dead.

Quickly, as a lightning bolt
it lunges at its prey,
fangs dripping with deadly venom;
it injects the juice of death.

Quietly it lurks away,
bloated from its meal.
It disappears into the grass:
Stealthily, quiet, deadly

- James Connolly, 7K

Ballad - Broken Dreams

He was a natural from the first day
Born on the Earth solely to play
Within years obtaining great skill
Inside him burnt unmeasurable will

The father nurtured him from the start
Gradually improving the art
Soon enough he mastered the ice
To the dad nothing would suffice

So he pushed at a very young age
He learnt to put the puck in the cage
Each year he grew more strong and tough
But his best efforts were never enough

Finally many people began to see
What a star this boy would be
As a result his dad grew obsessed
And forgot to see his son's best

But the boy's will got him through
Though deep down he was black and blue
And right when he was going to cease
He could finally perform drills with ease

His first years on a team were amazing
Every game he played he went blazing
Immediately he was upgraded
As his years of fun suddenly faded

In competitive the kid still destroyed
He was good enough to be employed
By teams that would perform any sin
Just anything to conquer and win

His skill got him playing every shift
For his talent was a magnificent gift
His constant play got many parents mad
But the kid was defended by dad

Years passed by much the same
Until the great day finally came
God was looking down on him that day
For the man was drafted to Jr. A

His team that year played very well
And his great play got him to the OHL
Where he carried his team to the cup game
His life would never be the same

The game was an intense bout
Filled with many eager scouts
And as the star looked for a puck to find
A cheap player hit from behind

The man woke up to see his dad's eyes
And find out that he was paralyzed
Father thought back to all those years
Which were quickly washed away with solemn tears

Daniel Lahey, 7K

There once was a fellow whose nose,
Messed up his basketball throws,
It made people laugh,
So he reduced it by half,
By squeezing it tight with a hose.

Timothy Ho, 7

No matter how grouchy you're feeling,
A good joke is always appealing,
To laugh helps the mood,
And even if crude,
The joke is a quick way of healing.

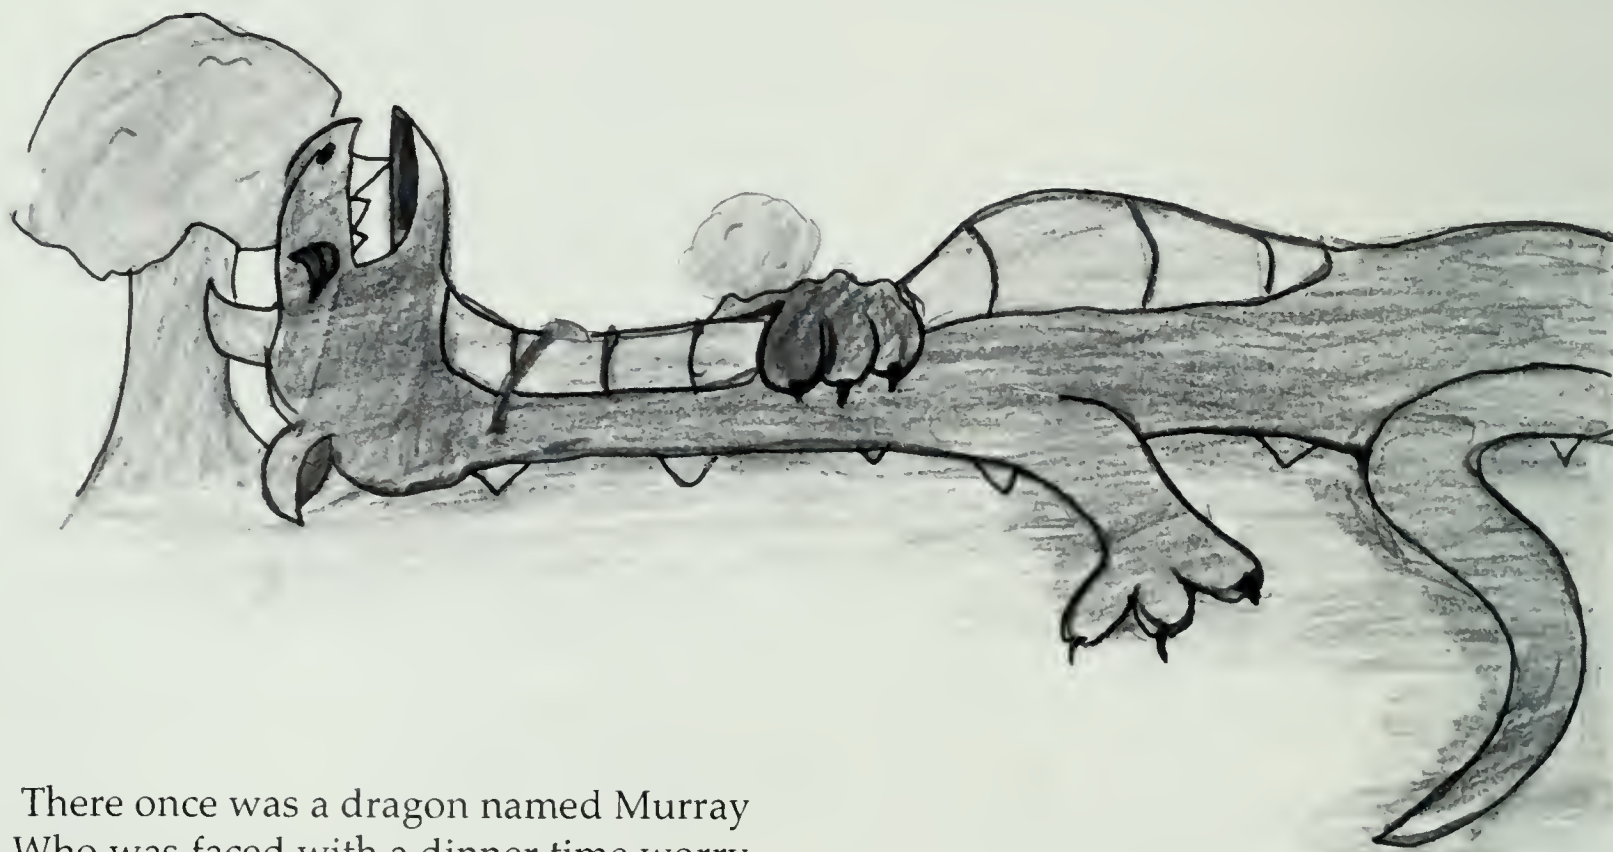

Davey Heintzman, 7K

There was a young worm who was wishing
That someday he could go fishing,
He tempted his fate,
By going as bait,
Now the silly young worm has gone
missing.

James Connolly, 7K

I wish my room had a floor
'cause then I could put in a door
and a place for my feet,
I could sit there and eat
cause hanging up here is a bore.

Brendan Hennessey, 7K

Who was faced with a dinner time worry.
Roast peasant today?
Or human flambé?
In the end he settled for curry.
